
Writers in this Issue

John and Etta Hesselink were Reformed Church in America missionaries to Japan, 1953-73. John is the Albertus C. Van Raalte professor of systematic theology emeritus, Western Theological Seminary, Holland, Michigan.

Gordon Laman is professor of pastoral theology emeritus, Tokyo Union Theological Seminary, Tokyo, Japan.

Ichiro Sato is an elder in the Yukinoshita Church, Kamakura, Japan.

Akihiro Matsumoto is minister of the Church of the Twelve Apostles, Sapporo, Japan.

Nathan Brownell is minister of the Japanese-American United Church, New York, New York.

Fumihito Andy Nakajima is minister for the Japanese-speaking people of Western Michigan, and assistant professor of Japanese, Hope College, Holland, Michigan.

Reviewers in this Issue

Richard D. Adams is minister of Pine Street Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Sherwin Brantsen is minister of the Laketon Bethel Reformed Church, Muskegon, Michigan.

Glenn Bruggers is a retired Reformed Church missionary-missionary executive residing in Holland, Michigan.

Elton J. Bruins is director of the A. C. Van Raalte Institute, Hope College, Holland, Michigan.

Derek DeJager is minister of the Florida Reformed Church, Amsterdam, New York.

Michael De Vries is a retired minister of the Christian Reformed Church.

Carl E. Gearhart is minister of the American Reformed Church, Woodstock, Minnesota.

David W. Jurgens is a retired member of East Iowa Presbytery, the Presbyterian Church (USA).

Burrell Pennings is a retired minister of the Reformed Church in America residing in Zeeland, Michigan.

Mark E. Mast is minister of Trinity Reformed Church, Holland, Michigan.

Isaac C. Rottenberg, a former chairperson of the Office on Christian-Jewish Relations (NCC), is a retired RCA minister who remains active in interfaith dialogue.

Edward H. Schreier is minister of the Faith Reformed Church, Brookings, South Dakota.

Kris Veldheer is a teaching librarian at the Graduate Theological Union, Berkeley, California.

Ralph W. Vunderink is a senior lecturer in philosophy and humanities at Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Glenn Wyper is professor emeritus, Tyndale College, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

This periodical is indexed in the ATLA Religion Database, published by the American Theological Library Assoc., 250 S. Wacker Dr., 16th Flr., Chicago, IL 60606, E-mail: atla@atla.com, WWW: <http://www.atla.com>.